Summary Report on Higher Education session organized on 25th January 2023

Venue: PSCMRCET Main Seminar Hall

No.of Participants: 118

Participants: IV B.Tech Students

Description:

Mrs. T Anuradha commenced the session discussing about the different paths taken by students as they foray into making their careers. She cited that each one's journey is different and the process of finding the path would vary from individual to individual, with some having longer journeys than others. On this note, she introduced 6 success mantras for students who wish to make their mark in the IT Industry: Problem Solving, Soft Skills, Tools, Portfolio, Finance, Health. Mrs. T Anuradha stated that many students face loss of opportunities due to poor communication skills. Soft skills such as writing emails, effective verbal communication, presenting yourself well etc. give an upper edge to the students possessing these skills in terms of employability. She cited a personal example and told students that she built good leadership skills by taking initiatives in organizing events at the college level, getting people together, delegating work etc. Since the ability to work in teams is of supreme importance in the software industry, she urged the students to build these skills through student projects. She addressed the usual student complaints of not finding enough time and by actually calculating hours in a student's routine she showed how the students actually have more free time than they perceive. She concluded by introducing the concept of setting SMART goals towards attaining objectives.
