Image Processing & AI Introduction

Signal in Image processing explained by Resource Person

A screenshot of a Zoom meeting showing a slide titled "Signal - Definition". The slide content includes:

- Signal - Definition
- A definition: "A signal is formally defined as a function of one or more variables, which conveys information on the nature of a physical phenomenon."
- Examples of signals:
  - Speech Signal (represented by a green waveform)
  - ECG Signal (represented by a red waveform)
  - Sinusoidal Voltage Signal (represented by a yellow sine wave)
  - Radar Signal (represented by a red radar dish and a red airplane)
  - Two dimensional signal  $S(X,Y)$  (represented by a white car on a grid)

The Zoom toolbar at the bottom is visible, and a small video thumbnail of the resource person is in the top right corner.

Department of CSE organized a certificate Course on “Machine Learning” for III CSE Students by the resource person Mr. Rajesh Kumar Verma from 28th NOV 2020 to 26th DEC 2020.

Main focus of the workshop was to do hands on practical with Machine learning tools.. Machine learning explores the area of algorithms, which can make high end predictions on data. In recent times, machine learning has been deployed in a wide range of computing tasks, where designing efficient algorithms and programs becomes rather difficult, such as email spam filtering, optical character recognition, search engine improvement, digital image processing, data mining, etc.

Overall student learnt the basics of working with various machine learning framework. Feedback students was collected and it suggested that they welcomed this initiative and they are motivated to explore more dimension in this platform also they are willing to use this tools in their projects in future.

Objectives:

1. Understand the components of a Machine Learning algorithm.
2. How Machine Learning uses computer algorithms to search for patterns in data
3. Understands basics of Deep Learning Algorithms

Assignment-I (on classification)

Objective:

Find data sources that include other iris species and their sepal/petal measurements (include other attributes too if possible), and examine the new classification accuracy.

- a) Load the dataset and look at first few rows.
- b) Describe the data set.
- c) Split the data Test/ Train in 40% / 60%.
- d) Plot the Graphs as you think appropriate.
- e) Build a decision tree for your data and specify classification rules.
- f) Draw Confusion Matrix and find accuracy

Assignment-II (on clustering)

Objective:

Demonstrate unsupervised ML technique (K-Means Clustering Algorithm) in the simplest form. Generate our own data using the `make_blobs` function from the `sklearn.datasets` module. And graph the relationship between the number of clusters and Within Cluster Sum of Squares (WCSS) then we select the number of clusters where the change in WCSS begins to level off (elbow method). And categorize the data using the optimum number of clusters.

Assignment-III (CNN)

Objective:

- 1) Determine usage of GPU in Google Colab using Python
Use CIFAR-10 dataset to build a CNN image classifier.
- 2) What are the Python packages you have used
- 3) What are the Accuracy you got and Target Accuracy of Training?

Use the Google Celllab for doing the CNN assignment.

Use KERAS or TensorFlow Packages of Python

Use CIFAR or MNIST dataset

DEPARTMENT OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERING

Report on A Three week certificate course on "3D Printing Technology"

(8.12.2020 to 29.12.2020)

The Department of Mechanical Engineering, PSCMRCET has conducted A Three week certificate course on "3D Printing Technology" for which the resource person is Kalai Selvan, VAC Instructor from R.K Microns for III year MECH students from 8.12.2020 to 29.12.2020.

3D printing is one of the most important technological advancement in additive manufacturing which has been implemented and recognized as a part of modern industry as it has many advantages over conventional approach of which one of the most important factor which is time. Generally in Fused Deposition Modeling the component is manufactured using the concept of rapid prototyping and layer by layer deposition of the material which is done by sending the data into the software of the machine using a stereolithography (.STL) file format made by using modeling software (CAD). In today's world of mechanical engineering the applications of 3D printing are very useful for research and development of various components ranging from simple structures used in everyday life to complicated components in aerospace applications. 3D printing provides many advantages few are simplicity, reliability and precision etc. 3D printing is the most widely used additive manufacturing processes in the current industry not only limited to engineering.

Around 124 students from III year attended the training program which will be very useful once they enter into any industry. A few faculty members from Mechanical Engineering department also attended this training program along with the students.

Outcomes:

1. basic technical understanding of the physical principles, materials, and operation of the types of AM processes
2. understand the relationships between AM process phenomena and part accuracy and surface finish.

DEPARTMENT OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERING

Report on A Three week certificate course on "English for Engineering Students"

(01.02.2021 to 20.02.2021)

The Department of Mechanical Engineering, PSCMRCET has conducted A Three week certificate course on "English for Engineering Students" for which the resource person is Dr.T.Santhisree, Associate Professor of English, PSCMRCET for I year MECH students from 01.02.2021 to 20.02.2021

English is one of the widely spoken languages around the world. For an engineer and an engineering student, English language fluency is important both in studies and career. Engineering is one of the largest fields of study and many of the works of research and academics are recorded in English. Without fluency in English, engineering students may find it difficult to understand the concept being conveyed by the authors. Also, many modules in engineering require writing academic reports. Hence, a good fluency and grasp of English language is necessary.

Basic reasons why an Engineer should be fluent in English are as follows:

In a student's social life, English language is most important. It helps to build strong relationship and better understanding among fellow students and peers. For success in any field, one has to know, understand and communicate effectively. In the era of liberalisation, privatisation and globalisation, communication skills are the key to success. The English language is now a bridge language of international business, technology, research and aviation. About 1.8 billion speak English and the number is still rising.

Around 15 students from I year attended the training program which will be very useful once they enter into any industry. A few faculty members from Mechanical Engineering department also attended this training program along with the students.

Outcomes:

1. Will get fundamental knowledge of how to write content.
2. Will be write resume, blog, copy writing etc

DEPARTMENT OF CIVIL ENGINEERING

Report on Six-day Training program on ETABS Software by APSSDC (8th Feb 2021- 13th Feb 2021)

The Department of Civil Engineering, PSCMR CET has conducted a Six day training program on ETABS software in association with Andhra Pradesh State Skill Development Corporation (APSSDC) from 8th February 2021 to 13th February 2021 for the final year students. "ETABS-Extended 3D analysis of Building Systems", is a 3D modeling software for any kind of structural analysis and design. Using this software, one can create any kind of complex structure easily. 3D model is created with the utilization of plan views and elevations. 3D modeling, visualization, and automatic code-based learning are some of the unique features of this software. This software is loaded with an integrated system consisting of modeling tools and templates, code-based load prescriptions, analysis methods, and solution techniques.

The software can handle the largest and most complex building models and associated configurations. ETABS software is embedded with CAD-like drawing tools with an object-based interface and grid representation. ETABS also supports several analytical models like response spectrum analysis, time-history analysis, and line direct integration time-history analysis. Around 47 students from IV year attended the training program which will be very useful once they enter into the construction industry. A few faculty members from Civil Engineering department also attended this training program along with the students.

Outcomes:

1. Will get fundamental knowledge of how to build a model.
2. Analysis and design of foundations and slabs with any shape.
3. Can create 3D design of structures like bridges, dams, tanks and building structures.
4. Can generate detailed and comprehensive reports for every project or task.

DEPARTMENT OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERING

Report on A Three week certificate course on "Fundamentals of Python"

(02-03-2021 to 22-03-2021)

The Department of Mechanical Engineering, PSCMRCET has conducted A Three week certificate course on "Fundamentals of Python" for which the resource person is Dr.D.Durga Prasad, Professor, Department of CSE, PSCMRCET for II year MECH students from 02-03-2021 to 22-03-2021.

Python is highly versatile. You can use it for both small and complex tasks, and it is used across many different industries — from its more common applications in data science and software engineering to environments like mobile app development, artificial intelligence, and machine learning. This multifaceted use is due to the wide array of Python libraries available (over 125,000, to be specific). Libraries are collections of pre-written code in a particular language that anyone can access, meaning that once you've learned the basics of Python, you'll likely be able to understand and use a huge amount of code developed by other programmers. Another important aspect of Python's versatility is its ability to run with other programming languages. A few common examples of Python implementation with other languages are Jython (Python integrated with Java) and CPython (Python integrated with C). Lastly, Python offers cross-platform functionality, meaning that it will function properly whether you're working with Windows, Linux, or macOS.

Around 50 students from II year attended the training program which will be very useful once they enter into any industry. A few faculty members from Mechanical Engineering department also attended this training program along with the students.

Outcomes:

1. Write simple Python programs.
2. Develop Python programs with conditionals and loops.
3. Define Python functions and to use Python data structure- lists, tuples, dictionaries.
